Seminar Number: 33

Topic: Treatment: Alcoholics Anonymous

Required Reading:

Supplemental Reading:

Leach, Barry, and John L. Norris. Factors in the development of Alcoholics Anonymous (A.A.). In: Kissin, Benjamin, and Henri Begleiter (eds.): Treatment and Rehabilitation of the Chronic Alcoholic (volume 5 of The Biology of Alcoholism), New Mowrer, O. Hobart. Alcoholics Anonymous and the "Third" reformation. Religion in Life 34:383-97, 1965.

Peyrot, Mark. Narcotics anonymous: its history, structure, and approach. Int. J. Addictions

Phillips, Julianne. Alcoholics Anonymous: An Annotated Bibliography. Kent, Ohio, Central Ohio

Rodin, Miriam B. Alcoholism as a folk disease:
the paradox of beliefs and choice of therapy in an urban American Community. J. Stud. Alcohol

Seiden, Richard H. The use of Alcoholics Anonymous members in research on alcoholism. Quart. J.

Thune, Carl E. Alcoholism and the archtypal past:
a phenomenological perspective on Alcoholics Anon-Tournier, Robert E. Alcoholics Anonymous as treatment and as ideology. J. Stud. Alcohol

Trice, Harrison M., and Paul M. Roman. Sociopsy-chological predictors of affiliation with Alcoholics Anonymous: a longitudinal study of "treatment

Whitley, Oliver R. Life with Alcoholics Anonymous: the Methodist class meeting as a paradigm.

Wilson, William G. (Bill W.). Twelve Steps and Twelve Traditions. New York, Alcoholics Anonymous World Services, Incorporated, 1953.